

Structure - two cores together with "A-pillars" hidden in the facade carry the loads and stiffen the buildings; slabs with internal beams make it one entity, like an organism.